

THE TEXAS ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT SALES TAX

A PRIMER FOR LOCAL OFFICIALS

2023 UPDATE

BACKGROUND OF THE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT SALES TAX

The economic development sales tax was created in 1989 to give smaller Texas communities the financial resources to create top-flight economic development programs. Today, the tax is the undisputed workhorse of local economic development efforts, serving as the backbone of economic development programs in more than 600 communities and 700 economic development corporations (EDCs) across the state.

During the 88th Texas Legislative Session (2023), the TEDC once again successfully advocated against bills that would have eroded the main purpose of the economic development sales tax -- that is to help create primary jobs and enhance the overall economic vitality of communities.

For more than 30 years, the economic development sales tax has helped bring billions of dollars of new investment to Texas... the most important difference-maker in the history of economic development in our state.

The economic development sales tax is the state's largest and most effective local revenue source for economic development. The best way to protect the tax for years to come is to use it with caution, care, and common sense.

The Texas Economic Development Council (TEDC) will advocate, educate, and inform economic development professionals, local officials, and lawmakers on developments related to the tax, including best practices. The TEDC will continue to offer state-mandated training for local economic development officials, which provides the tools and knowledge needed to develop and implement effective economic development programs.

ECONOMIC IMPACT OF THE THIRTY YEARS OF THE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT SALES TX

In 2020 the TEDC commissioned The Perryman Group to research the economic impact of the economic development sales tax over the past three decades. Dr. Perryman's findings include:

- Over twenty (20) percent of the net new jobs generated in Texas over the past 30 years have involved efforts funded by the economic development sales tax.
- A primary reason for Texas' economic success is tireless efforts by local economic development professionals across the state who rely on funds provided by the sales tax for economic development to compete for quality corporate locations, expansions and retention.
- The Perryman Group estimates that the fiscal benefits to the State of Texas from projects facilitated by the sales tax by economic development include $7.1 billion per year, with $4.9 billion per year to local taxing entities across the state.
- Every dollar in economic development sales tax paid by taxpayers yields $131.84 in output and $82.42 in income.
